Your household: letting someone book for you

Two adults in one family each keep their own sign-in. A household links you, so one can book a dive or kit for the other without a second phone, if you say they may.

Where

Kit Bag → My details, under Your household. The card only appears once the committee has put you in a household (guide MS3).

Yours to give

The committee links you, but only you can say who may act for you, and you can take it back at any time. Nobody can answer about photos or the club's rules for you.

Saying who may book for you

1. Find Your household
   It lists the people the committee has linked you with.
2. Pick who may book for me
   Choose their name, or Nobody, just me. It saves straight away.
3. What they can then do
   Book you onto a dive, ask for kit in your name, and type in your emergency contact. Everything they do is recorded as done on your behalf.

1 who may book for me.

FoxFace Diving how-to guides, guide M15. Pictures are from Kelpline Divers, a made-up club; your club's site shows your own names and kit. Made by FoxFace. Version 2, October 2026.