Notices and messages

Where the club's notices, minutes and trips are posted, and where you're told when something happens, such as your kit being approved.

Where

Noticeboard for notices (the Notices tile says how many you haven't read). The bell at the top of every page for your messages.

Phone notifications

If you use the FoxFace Diving app with notifications on, the same messages arrive on your phone (guide M13).

The noticeboard

1. Open the Noticeboard
   Notices, minutes the committee has shared, expeditions and published training days are all here. The buttons along the top filter them. The next committee meeting is shown at the top too, with who to speak to if you want something on the agenda.
2. Attached documents
   A notice with a file attached has a button to open it.

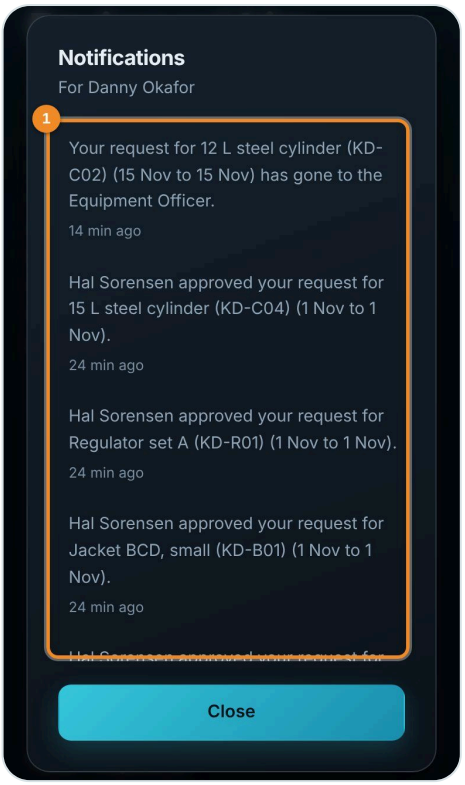

1 the filters, 2 the next committee meeting.

Your messages

1. Look for the bell
   A number on the bell means something new. Tap it.

2. Read them
   Approvals, changes to dives you're booked on, kit due back and anything that needs you are listed newest first. Press Close when you've read them.

1 your messages, newest first.

FoxFace Diving how-to guides, guide M8. Pictures are from Kelpline Divers, a made-up club; your club's site shows your own names and kit. Made by FoxFace. Version 2, October 2026.